

EWP offers unique courses for all SPEEA-represented employees — designed to enhance your technical and professional skills.

EWP builds on the legacy of the great engineering leader Edward Curtis Wells.

Ed Wells Partnership (EWP) is a launching pad for career growth and opportunity.

EWP is a joint initiative between SPEEA and The Boeing Company that provides training and career development resources for SPEEA-represented employees.

Learn. Grow. Take Flight.

<http://edwells.web.boeing.com>

Technical Skills

Learn from top Boeing engineering and industry experts. Dive deeper into your technical field or explore new leading-edge topics and materials.

Professional and Business Skills

Enhance your communication and presentation skills. Learn new tools for enhanced productivity. Expand your leadership and mentoring skills through exceptional classes designed just for you.

External Learning Events

EWP reserves seats in local classes and conferences offered by technical associations. Hear industry experts on a wide variety of technical topics.

Conference Grants

EWP pays your conference fees and travel expenses (limited to once every 3 years) to attend a technical conference. The time periods to apply vary each year — check the EWP website for details.

Book Clubs

EWP offers technical and professional titles throughout the year. Sign up, receive a book, and join others virtually for a facilitated discussion.

Career Coaching and Consultation

You are in the driver's seat of your career! Connect with Boeing experts, get resume and interview guidance and learn about yourself. Take advantage of certified career coaches and resources to help you create a plan and avoid speed bumps along the way. These services are free and confidential.

EWP Live! Broadcasts

Learn about emerging technical topics, Boeing product lines, history, and more during live lunchtime broadcasts. EWP also hosts leadership and professional development experts. EWP Live! broadcasts are recorded and can be viewed on-demand. Hundreds of topics at your fingertips!

Getting Started

1.

Review our bi-weekly email ad to see what classes are available to you now

2.

Explore our website to find the resources that fit your needs

3.

Browse our course catalog to identify classes or virtual events that interest you

4.

Click on My Ed Wells to see your upcoming scheduled classes, history of classes and grants and find your watch list of classes you want to take 5.

Find upcoming Book Club and EWP Live! topics

6.

Review Conference Grant opportunities

7.

Learn about the Global Technical Leadership at Boeing Certificate Program

8.

Contact our Career Services team to develop your career plan

9.

Partner with your manager to get support for your skill development plan

10.

Sign up for an event and watch your career take flight

What would you like to learn today?

“The Ed Wells Partnership has had a positive impact on my life technically, personally, and professionally.”

How many classes can I take and who pays?

- EWP is funded by Boeing through the SPEEA contract. EWP pays for your class registration fee and materials. There is no cost to you!
- There is no limit to the number of EWP classes you can take.
- Events offered on-hours require manager approval to pay for your time.
- Events offered off-hours do not require manager approval since you attend on your own time

A Joint SPEEA/Boeing Initiative

635 Park Avenue NE,
10-18.1 Building, MC 6X1-01
Renton, Washington 98057

<http://edwells.web.boeing.com>